
Property Council Residential Development Summit

Lauren Semple, who leads our Resource Management Team presented at the Property Council Residential Development Summit in February 2019.

Some philosophical issues to sort out with an Urban Development Authority model based on our experiences in Christchurch. If coming to the end of the use of such powers in Christchurch is seen as a “return to local leadership” does it follow that the use of such powers in the first place is an affront to local democracy? And how does that fit with the intention to deliver national UDA legislation. Good conversation starter.
