
World class science research teams

Victoria University recently acquired Callaghan Innovation's carbohydrate chemistry and superconductivity and energy research teams, setting up the Ferrier Research Institute and the Robinson Research Institute.

Greenwood Roche advised Victoria University on most aspects of the transfer arrangements, including the relevant people, asset and liability transfers, extensive implementation and transitional arrangements, financial arrangements including treatment of funding contracts, specialist premises leasing and also associated joint venture arrangements and downstream acquisitions around particular research product and technology.

Specialist Expertise

Corporate & commercial
Property & real estate

Key lawyers involved

Brigid McArthur
Anthony Staples
Jeannie Warnock